Salt & Light Productions® Wins Second Emmy® Award

(Sarasota, FL-December 6, 2010) – Salt & Light Productions has won its second Emmy® Award in as many years; this time for a short documentary it created for Safe Place and Rape Crisis Center (SPARCC).

On Saturday evening, December 4, the Suncoast Chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences presented the prestigious award to Senior Producer Don Gangnagel during its annual award dinner in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. Emmy® Awards have been presented by the Academy since 1949 to recognize excellence in television and advanced media programming.

The documentary, an emotional portrayal of domestic abuse victims who were helped by SPARCC, earned the award in the category of Current Affairs Documentary. In June, the SPARCC documentary won a silver and two bronze Telly Awards.

Last year, Don Gangnagel won an Emmy® for a documentary created for Micaiah Ministries, an organization that works with street children in St. Petersburg, Russia.

The award is one of the highest honors that can be earned for television and advanced media programming. "This is a great validation of our efforts to tell the stories of non-profit organizations that are making a difference here and around the world, and to tell those stories with excellence" said Don Gangnagel.

As a project of The Center for Faith and Freedom, Salt and Light Productions has been serving the non-profit community since 1989 with its multi-media and video production capabilities. "Our organization is once again grateful to be recognized for our commitment to excellence," noted Founder and President Stuart J. Roth. "We are dedicated to helping those less fortunate and sometimes overlooked members of society by sharing their stories and testimonies with the community. Our goal is to help inspire and encourage charities by equipping them with the necessary multi-media tools to communicate their message and vision to donors, program recipients and community leaders."
