SALT & LIGHT PRODUCTIONS OFFERS LOOK INSIDE THE FLORIDA HIGHWAY PATROL

Sarasota, FL (February 13, 2012) – Salt & Light Productions has announced the release of its latest documentary; a 92-minute film that gives viewers a rare peek behind the scenes at the Florida Highway Patrol.

'Troopers: Inside the Florida Highway Patrol' follows the progress of Basic Recruit Class 118 through twenty-seven weeks of intense training to prepare them for the physical and psychological challenges they will face in their new careers. The documentary also portrays the various ways that Florida State Troopers work together to keep motorists safe on Florida's highways.

The Salt & Light Productions team spent more than a year filming recruits at the Florida Highway Patrol Training Academy, filming Troopers across the state of Florida, and editing more than 250 hours of footage to complete the project. In addition to the documentary, Salt & Light Productions was able to provide the FHP with a short video presentation and a 30 second PSA to aid recruiting efforts for the agency.

Stuart J. Roth, Founder and President of Salt & Light Productions noted, "I felt it was important for citizens all over our state to understand the dedication and commitment to public service that is exemplified by the FHP. Unfortunately, we often take for granted those individuals whose primary responsibility is ensuring public safety. This documentary will serve to remind us of the sacrifice being made on a daily basis by the men and women of the FHP."

In 2011, an emotional segment of the documentary was nominated for two Emmy Awards. The segment, titled 'Farewell,' presented an emotionally intimate look at what happens when the patrol loses one of its own.
